Calls Democratic Candidate's Address 'Shabby Attempt to Belittle' G.O.P. Record of Accomplishment in Ulster County; Cites Bridge, Others

"Long on abuse but short on facts" is the way Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Ulster County Republican Chairman, characterized the speech here on Saturday night of the Democratic candidate for governor.

Senator Wicks expressed disappointment at the type of address which the candidate delivered, saying "The people of Ulster county are entitled to more than a campaign of personal abuse against a great governor from an opposing candidate for the state's highest office."

Senator Wicks was particularly critical of what he termed "the Democratic candidate's shabby attempt to belittle the Republican record of accomplishment in this county."

Simple Priority System Imposed On U. S. Industry

Shortages of Steel, Copper and Other Items Are Expected Soon in Nation

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—A simple, ironclad priority system was imposed on industry today as a bottleneck-buster for the $30,000,000,000-a-year defense program.

With this action, the National Production Authority felt it had provided the basic kit of tools needed to keep the defense production drive in high gear despite prospective shortages.

A single priority rating—identified by the symbol "DO," for "Defense Order"—will give military contractors the right of way in any defense plant.

To Accept Orders
The N.P.A. regulation, announced by Administrator William M. Harrison last night, requires every company to accept "DO" orders and make delivery on time. Civilian work must be sidetracked if necessary.

Officials said they knew of no delays on munitions work thus far. But shortages of steel, copper, aluminum and other vital materials are expected to develop as the program picks up speed.

"Our national defense has first call on the nation's resources," Harrison said in announcing the priority order.

May Serve Rating
A manufacturer who receives a "DO" contract may serve the rating on his suppliers, to obtain parts, raw materials and accessories; and the subcontractors in turn may use it on their suppliers. Companies which already hold military orders are expected to feed the Pentagon with requests for the rating in the next few days, simply because it will insure (Continued on Page 15, Col. 6)

Hanley Derides Democratic Talk

U. S. Senatorial Candidate Says Look at State Projects Answer

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Republican U. S. Senate Candidate Joe R. Hanley says there should be an end to "this silly Democratic talk" about what the G.O.P. administration at Albany has done with the state's $673,000,000 postwar construction fund.

Hanley said in a campaign speech here last night that the New York Democrats should, instead, explain how Democrats in Washington have spent $50,000,000,000 on national defense.

The lieutenant governor, campaigning against Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic-Liberal Party candidate, addressed a dinner at the Dutchess County Republican Committee.

Hanley's speech was largely a reply to charges about the state fund made by Rep. Walter A. Lynch of the Bronx, Democratic-Liberal candidate for governor.

Lynch and other Democrats have charged the Dewey administration with squandering the fund.

Asks Look at Projects

Hanley told the dinner meeting that the best way to "end this silly Democratic talk" is to look at New York state projects. Among them he listed additions being built at the Matteawan (Continued on Page 15, Col. 7)

Dewey Hits Hard, Cites Corruption

Asks Both Parties Aid Fight to Keep 'Crooks' From Looting State as They Did City

Cause for Low Pay
Diversion of Cash Basis of Inadequate Pay, He Declares

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Governor Dewey charged today that "crooked Democratic bosses" had looted New York city and said they now want to get "their dirty hands" on the State Department.

Slugging with gusto reminiscent of his racket-busting days in the mid-1930s, Dewey called on Republicans and Democrats to help prevent the men he termed "Flynn-Tammamy bosses" from "dragging the state down into the same cesspool of corruption into which they have dragged the city."

His newest re-election campaign blast at New York city Democratic leaders came in a caustic comment on official reports that millions of dollars of the city's school repair fund had been mis-handled.

The disclosure Sunday came on top of the city's police-gambling scandal, which Dewey already had seized on as a state campaign issue.

He says the Democratic state candidates are dominated by "the very same bosses who have brought New York city to its knees."

The governor, in the midst of a 12-county campaign junket, returned to Albany today to meet with county leaders of the "Rural Citizens for Dewey and Hanley" organization. Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, the G.O.P. nominee for the U. S. Senate, was to join the huddle.

Emphasizes Degree

Dewey said "reports of corrupt practices in letting millions of dollars worth of contracts in the school system of New York city emphasize the degree to which Flynn-Tammamy bosses have looted the city."

He added: "It is well known that many millions of dollars of increased state aid for education in the last two years have been diverted from the school system to other purposes."

"The new information of the corrupt expenditures of other millions of dollars of school money is a partial explanation of the reason why teachers and other city employees have not been adequately paid."

"The same incompetence or worse is the reason why crowded conditions exist in the schools."

"With $50,000,000 a year available for school construction, the city has been so lax in preparing plans and acquiring sites that it is spending only $35,000,000 a year."

"Deeply Significant"
"It is deeply significant to the people of the state that the Flynn-Tammamy machine, which has made bribery and corruption the rule in New York city, now wants to get its hands on the whole state."

"It is a powerful reason why all good citizens—Republican and Democrats alike—should make it their business to keep the dirty hands of these bosses off education."

Rhee Says Troops Acted Without U. S. 8th Army Orders

Says He Thinks Worst Is Over, Need Now Is Housing for Population

Seoul, Oct. 3 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee of the Korean Republic expressed a belief today that his South Korean troops crossed into northern Korea without orders from the allied U. S. Eighth Army.

The 75-year-old chief executive leaned back in an easy chair behind his desk in the presidential mansion. He looked out of a paneled window across a yellowing lawn to maples turning scarlet in the crisp autumn weather.

"I think if they have gone over (the Red boundary at parallel 38) they have gone over without orders from the Eighth Army," he said. "But I don't believe the Eighth Army will force them to come back."

He added: "I think at least the worst is over. But our most urgent need now is housing. Some whole villages have been destroyed."

Rhee sighed and looked through another open window.

Then he leaned down and patted a small lawny dog beside his chair. "His name is 'Happy,'" he said, "even though he doesn't feel very happy now. He's so tired and hungry."

Not Completely Happy
Rhee obviously was not completely happy himself as he talked with Hal Levine of Newsweek and me.

His problems are mountainous. As Rhee spoke portions of his army had crossed the border into the Red north.

"We believe a divided country cannot exist in peace," he said. "All these years we have been patient, hoping to settle things peacefully. I don't believe the (Continued on Page 15, Col. 6)

Defends Act of South in Crossing Line as Essential to Unity

Lake Success, Oct. 3 (AP)—Australian Foreign Minister Percy C. Spender called on the United Nations today for the complete destruction of the North Korean army as a fighting force, to prevent a new aggression in that country.

In a defense of the crossing by South Korean forces of the 38th parallel, Spender told the General Assembly's political committee: "It would be useless if North Korean forces were allowed to remain ready again to threaten South Korea. The bloodshed and destruction of the last months would all have been in vain."

Spender said the only logical interpretation of the Security Council's resolution of June 27 "is that" the North Korean army, which was the aggressor, must be utterly destroyed as a fighting force; which, by corollary, means pursuing it across the parallel.

He explained that this cross was only for the purpose of pacifying all Korea and said: "We do not intend that large forces of troops of any member of the United Nations will remain permanently in Korea."

Sponsor of Plan
Australia, along with Britain and six others, is a sponsor of a plan to unite and rehabilitate Korea under U.N. auspices.

Canada's minister for external affairs, L. B. Pearson, promised complete support for the eight-nation plan. He said Russia's proposal for a cease-fire now would have the effect of stopping U.N. troops at the 38th parallel or wherever they are in Korea.

India was also on the morning speaking schedule. Fresh instructions from New Delhi shortly be (Continued on Page 15, Col. 5)

New York Evacuation Plan To Care for Women, Young

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—City Defense Director Arthur W. Wallender is readying a women-and-children-first evacuation plan to clear millions of persons from New York city in event of emergency.

He said last night it should be ready in tentative form by Oct. 15. It takes in federal and state agencies, city departments responsible for life and property, and neighboring states that may have to lend a hand to evacuees.

Wallender said the first stage is for planned evacuation of people in advance of enemy action. Those leaving would be mothers, school children, aged and infirm, physically handicapped and hospital patients.

The next step would be a complete evacuation of all non-essential residents if ordered by the military in time of extreme danger.

The third step contemplates a final evacuation of injured in the event the city is bombed.

Was Escorted by Red Officer Who Said American Was Satellite

Berlin, Oct. 3 (AP)—An American congressman has pierced Russia's Iron Curtain in Germany and returned undetected with an eyewitness account of new Soviet baby tanks and jet planes.

The adventure was reported by Rep. Thurmond Chatham (D.-N.C.), who came to Berlin with a group of legislators touring U. S. defense plants in Europe.

Chatham in an interview described a 50-mile jeep ride into the Soviet zone, which bristles with 250,000 Russian troops. He visited a new airbase and an infantry tank compound.

A westerner on such forbidden territory is vulnerable to arrest and possible shooting as a spy.

The congressman said he was escorted on the trip by a Russian officer he befriended while they both were doing liaison work during World War 2.

Chatham told this story: He recognized the Russian, in civilian clothing, in a West Berlin nightclub.

"He threw his arms around me and we had a good talk. He asked if I would like to take a trip with him and I accepted."

Put on Uniform
The next day the Russian took Chatham to the Soviet sector of Berlin, put on the uniform of a senior Red army officer and took a jeep from the Russian motor pool.

He backed his way through half a dozen checkpoints, explaining his American companion as a friend from one of the east European satellite countries.

At an airfield completed only a few weeks before, Chatham said he saw new jet planes with swept-back wings that looked to him as sleek and fast as the latest American types.

At another base, he said, there were about 20 tanks built lower than anything he had seen while in combat in both world wars—about three feet high but armed with long guns.

Chatham speculated the tanks might be almost immune to ordinary fire from weapons which could not lower their muzzles enough to aim at the low tanks.

The drivers, the congressman conjectured, probably lie prone to operate the tanks.

Gives His Views
En route, Chatham said, the Russian gave him these personal opinions:

1. The Soviets have lost face in Asia over the Korean war.

2. The Kremlin drive to bring about Polish-East German friendship under Communist rule has failed so far.

3. Every one-legged German would carry a gun against us (the Russians) now.

Chatham said he saw thousands of Russian soldiers in uniform bringing in the harvest. The officer, he said, explained this as a measure to maintain discipline in an army cooped up mostly in compounds and barracks.

The congressman said he was told the Soviet Occupation Army was paid mostly in east German marks which come out of the vast east German government's treasury and are written off as occupation costs.

At the end of the trip, Chatham said, the Russian doctored civilian clothes again and brought the congressman back to the west. The Russian, he added, was richer by cigarettes, chocolate and nylon stockings when they parted.

Chinese on Move

Reds Send Vehicles Toward Front Lines, Is Report

Tokyo, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Far East Air Force reported allied warplanes pounded heavy traffic columns rolling southward today in Red Korea from Communist China's Manchuria border.

The reports came as South Koreans pierced nearly 50 miles northward into Red Korea on a drive aimed to carry all the way to the Manchuria frontier.

Then the South Korean penetration army commander conferred urgently with two top U. S. generals who flew to Koryo Airfield, just south of the Parallel 38 border on Korea's east coast, to meet him.

Pilots making the strike along the international highway to the North Korean capital of Pyongyang reported they destroyed 56 trucks and five other vehicles. They claimed damage on 12 other trucks and a dozen other vehicles.

Penetration Is Made
Tokyo, Oct. 3 (AP)—South Korean forces pierced nearly 50 miles into Red Korea today on a drive aimed to carry all the way to Communist China's Manchuria border.

The South Korean commander then conferred with two top U. S. generals who flew to Koryo Airfield at Kanguang, just south of the border.

1st Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, and Maj. Gen. Earl E. Partridge, Fifth Air Force commander, talked there with Maj. Gen. Kim Pak Il, commander of the South Korean First Corps.

Partridge piloted the small plane.

The reason for the conference was not disclosed. But an allied Korean Military Advisory Group (KMAC) officer expressed concern over the small number of prisoners taken—50 to 75 a day.

KMAC officers feared that the Reds may be vanishing to mass up in the hills for a flanking attack.

Sullivan Jury Convicts Man of Killing Waitress

Monticello, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—A Sullivan county jury last night convicted Charles P. Aman, 37, of first degree manslaughter for beating to death his young waitress girl friend, Gertrude Rau, with a tire iron in a quarrel.

The verdict of the jury of six men and six women saved Aman from a maximum penalty of life in prison on a second degree murder charge.

The lesser charge carries a maximum penalty of 20 years. Aman's wife of 15 years, whom he was trying to divorce at the time of the slaying, said he told her after the verdict:

"I knew I had to get something, and it could have been worse." Mrs. Aman, mother of his two children, stuck by her husband and took the stand to defend him in the slaying of the 23-year-old Miss Rau, a summer resort waitress.

The jury deliberated almost nine hours to reach a verdict. The trial lasted one week.

County Judge William Deckerman said Aman would be sentenced Friday.

Miss Rau was beaten to death last June 10. Aman admitted the slaying but pleaded temporary insanity.

Field Registers As Red China Agent

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Fredrick Vanderbilt Field, who was cited by the Senate for contempt less than two weeks ago, has registered with the Justice Department as an agent of Communist China financial interests.

The department disclosed yesterday that Field has enrolled as "attorney in fact" for the Bank of China, the China National Aviation Corp. and several Chinese banks.

Field, a wealthy New Yorker, registered under a 1938 act which requires such action by persons representing foreign principals in this country.

He was cited by the Senate on Sept. 22 for contempt of Congress in refusing to answer a subcommittee's questions as to whether he was a Communist.

Field Wire Expected

Fort Monmouth, N. J., Oct. 3 (AP)—A military field wire that can be laid at speeds up to 120 miles an hour has been used successfully in Korea, the army signal corps announced here yesterday.

The wire was developed at signal corps laboratories here. It can be laid by airplane, or by automatic dispensers fired from a bazooka, or rifle. It can thus be run quickly over lakes, cliffs, and other obstacles and eliminates the slow, laborious process of laying wire by hand or motor vehicle.

Communists Make Gains

Helsinki, Finland, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Communist Party clinched up surprising gains in Finland's week-end local elections, preliminary figures showed today.

The Reds and the Liberals were the only parties to better their 1947 showing in the capital's municipal balloting. Other parties lost ground.

Reports from provincial towns exhibited similar trends. Communist advances in Helsinki, which astounded political circles here, were almost 1,000 votes.

NEW YORK STATE GETS ITS 5 Millionth Bell Telephone

The five millionth Bell telephone in this State was installed yesterday in the home of a young couple in The Bronx. Five million is a lot of telephones, but all of them—and more—are needed to keep pace with New York's growth in population, business and industry.

It has been a big job. Since 1941 our $845,000,000 construction program has resulted in a 60% increase in plant and facilities. Times like these emphasize the importance of this work and the value to the entire State of a telephone company that is financially healthy and strong enough to do the job well.

There is still more to be done, for there still are people waiting for telephones. We are building new telephone plant at the rate of half a million dollars every working day to meet these and future demands for service. Even as the first call was being made on the five millionth telephone, installers were busy putting in still more phones in homes and industries throughout the Empire State.

40 Are Feared Lost On Gasoline Tanker

Medellin, Colombia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Authorities feared today that all 40 persons aboard the gasoline tanker Opon were dead or dying after the vessel was set ablaze by lightning.

Rescue workers recovered 17 bodies last night. Twelve men were burned so badly they were not expected to live and 20 others, including Capt. Lazaro Medina, were missing.

The ship was set afire and destroyed on the Magdalena river about three miles south of Puerto Berrío. A lightning bolt struck the tanker, which was owned by the Tropical Oil Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

The country up around Shaverstown and the great Pepacton Reservoir ought to be a happy hunting ground for antique collectors before long. The Catskill Mountain News columnist reveals the prospects along this line as follows: "This East Branch Valley will be the scene of many auctions this year, and for many a year to come. Folks who are dispossessed by New York will often sell their belongings at auction. Many of the properties in the valley have been in the same family for generations. The sales should unearth items of interest and value. (Just think of all the relics that went for the high dollar back there in our own Ashokan upheaval!)

SHIP QUICK SAUCEPAN COOKIES

QUICK SAUCEPAN COOKIES will cheer up boys in the service or away at college. They are easy to make and easy to ship.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Easy to make, easy to ship, these cookies are ideal for sending to the children at college or the boys in the service.

Only one saucepan is needed to mix all the ingredients. The cookies are the old-fashioned kind studded with whole morsels of semi-sweet chocolate and nuts. They are baked in one large shallow pan, can be cut into squares exactly the size to fit the box chosen for mailing. As a variation, they can be cut into finger-size strips to serve at tea-time to the folks at home.

To pack cookies for mailing, cut a long strip of cardboard to make a divider the length of the box. Then pack one stack of cookies and cut a small piece of cardboard to divide that stack from the adjoining one. These cookies will ship well both because of their texture and the tight, efficient fashion in which they are packed.

Quick Saucepan Cookies (Approximately 48 2 1/2-inch squares)

Two and three-quarters cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup shortening, 2 1/2 cups (1 pound) brown sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 package semi-sweet chocolate. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Melt shortening in a large saucepan (2 1/2 to 3 quarts). Stir in the brown sugar and allow to cool slightly. Beat in eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour mixture, chopped nuts and semi-sweet chocolate. Blend well. Turn into greased pan (10 1/2 inches by 15 1/2 inches by 1/2 inch). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. When almost cool, cut into desired size squares or strips.

Chocolate Fudge Rounds (4 dozen cookies)

One-half cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 package semi-sweet chocolate, melted, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, blending together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour with the baking powder and salt. Add to mixture, blend well together. Add melted chocolate, vanilla and nuts. Mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonsfuls on an ungreased baking sheet. Top with additional chopped nuts if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 15 minutes.

Literacy Tests Begin October 6

As provided by law, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, acting under the board of regents of the State of New York, has made provision for the giving of literacy tests to "new voters" in Kingston in preparation for the coming election in November.

Laidlaw has appointed a deputy to conduct these tests Fridays and Saturdays, October 6, 7 and 13 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 10 p. m. and Saturday, October 14 between 7 a. m. and 10 p. m. On Fridays during school hours the tests will be given on the ground floor of the Manual Training Building where a sign will be on the door. After school and in the evenings they will be held inside the front entrance of the high school.

These tests are for "new voters"; those who are voting in New York State for the first time. Those eligible to take the test are both foreign and native-born persons who will be entitled to vote in New York State for the first time.

Certificates of literacy are issued to "new voters" as follows: To applicants whose credentials show that they have successfully completed the work prescribed for the sixth grade of the public day schools of the state.

To applicants whose credentials show that they have completed a course in reading and writing English equivalent to that required of sixth grade pupils in the public elementary schools of the state.

To all applicants who have passed an examination or test authorized by the commissioner. The test will be known as the New York State Regents Literacy test.

To applicants who because of physical disability are unable to pass the New York State Regents literacy test but who can satisfy the examiner that they could pass the test if it were not for such disability. (Applicants in this group should bring a certificate from an authority qualified to judge the nature and extent of the disability.)

The following persons are classed as "new voters" and must present evidence of literacy to the election inspectors:

All men and women born in the United States who became qualified to vote in New York state after January 1, 1922.

All men and women of foreign birth who became qualified to vote in New York state after January 1, 1922.

All persons who have previously voted in one or more other states, but who became qualified to vote in New York state for the first time after January 1, 1922.

All "new voters" must present to the election inspectors either a certificate of literacy issued under the regulations of the Regents through the school authorities or a diploma from the eighth grade of an elementary school or from a higher school where English has been the language of instruction.

WESTERN EUROPE DEFENSE FORCE

It's good news that the foreign ministers of the 12 North Atlantic Pact nations have moved closer to building an integrated armed force for the defense of western Europe. Their meeting in New York sounded as if they meant business.

Deputies will gather in London October 15 to consider overall political, economic and military aspects of the joint defense effort. Near the end of October, defense ministers will meet in Washington to plan details of the unified force. They're expected then to choose a chief of staff—not a supreme commander—to have responsibility for training and organizing the western armies.

Only when the force is a reality, and no date has been set for its creation, will a supreme commander be named.

The ministers in New York urged that "all available manpower and productive resources should be fully utilized" for western Europe's defense. If that determination is adhered to, if it is translated from mere paper plans to soldiers well equipped with tanks and guns, then the free world will really be getting somewhere.

Up to now the bold concept of the North Atlantic Treaty has been no more than a dream. It has been implemented by nothing but words. The real defense of western Europe has been an idea and that is all.

However encouraging the New York session seems on this general problem, it produced no concrete answer to the question of what to do about rearming West Germany. The most that could be said on this was the statement of a "qualified" official that German rearmament had received an "implied acceptance in principle."

Putting this in reader English, it means the ministers said things which strongly suggest they approve the idea.

France is, of course, the chief stumbling block on the German issue. The French want more time to study the matter. In view of France's long standing fears of an armed Germany, this is understandable. But the problem has been moving toward a decision for a long time and the French ought to be closer to knowing their mind than they appear to be. It is fair for the other pact nations to ask that when the defense ministers meet in Washington the French be ready with their answer.

It's the general opinion of most pact countries that German strength is needed in the European defense picture. If they are forced to abandon this view by French opposition, the sooner this happens the better. For then they will be free to make whatever other arrangements they can devise to cope with Russian might on the continent.

What is needed at this stage is clear, decisive action which will leave the Soviet Union in no doubt about what it will find if it tries to overrun Europe. Too much time already has been lost through indecision and uncertainty.

When the defense ministers leave Washington this November, we should know, one way or another whether there is to be a German armed force.

Considering all the things many a bulging pocketbook lobs, it's a wonder there's any room left for money. But not much space is needed these days.

Experience may be the finest of teachers, but it frequently teaches things you'd just as soon not learn.

WHY SPOIL A GOOD GAG?

A militant woman proposes that law firms stop listing the names of dead partners in their firm titles. She says this practice is particularly bad when the dead partners happen to have been distinguished attorneys. It's misleading, she adds, because it suggests the living members have inherited the brains of their illustrious departed colleagues.

Well, ethically speaking, she may have a pretty good point. But if she has her way she'll be dealing a stiff blow to American comedians. For years they've been squeezing every ounce of humor out of the tangle of long law firm names.

The only worse blow that could hit them

"These Days"

DOING BUSINESS WITH STALIN
As the Korean war approaches its end, the Russians have become as sweet as wild honey. Apparently it has all been a mistake. The 10,000 or so American casualties were a mistake. Our dead died for nothing. Let us all kiss and make up. Let us go back to where we were before the fighting started—then, of course, it would be easier for the Russians to start all over again!

The Russians would like us to stop at the artificial barrier, the 38th parallel, so that they might be able to reorganize. That would save the faces of Stalin and Mao Tse-tung. In fact, they would like us to show our good-will by having the United Nations recognize Soviet China and throw Chiang Kai-shek out of Formosa. The State Department, however, who are now yielding their ugly tar-brushes against General Douglas MacArthur, are even giving the impression that our greatest general is not quite so much. All this could save Stalin's face in Asia, and as our diplomatic agent not to be too concerned about building American prestige, they might give Stalin's face a thought.

In thinking about this turn of events, I went through a series of treaties that Russia signed and broke with the object of showing that it is impossible to do business with Stalin. But I shall leave that for another occasion because my memory flew back to the days in Shanghai when the Communists were circulating forged American banknotes.

So I shall give you the account of the time. In 1930, Ogden Mills, then under-secretary of the Treasury, informed President Herbert Hoover that the Treasury had come across a number of forged American banknotes and that he, Mills, had reason to believe that these forgeries were being printed by the Russian government on the government-owned engraving plant—the only one in that country.

The Russians, however, were making a mistake. The United States was not printing its banknotes in the smaller bills currently in use, while the Russians were counterfeiting the larger bills which were already then being abandoned.

Such counterfeits were, in December 1929, presented to the Federal Reserve Bank in New York and immediately detected. The "Berliner Tagblatt" in January, 1930, reported that such bills had appeared in Germany, being distributed by persons who had recently been in Russia. Also in Switzerland, a Communist had been arrested for passing them.

On February 6, 1930, it was reported from Warsaw that a Communist had been arrested there possessing a large quantity of counterfeit American bills. On January 23, Swiss banks issued a warning about them and soon they were reported in Mexico, Cuba and China. Then the Federal Reserve Bank of New York issued a world-wide warning against them. For a while there was a lull, but in 1932, these counterfeiters reappeared in Europe.

On January 3, 1933, the American secret service arrested a man of Russian origin, named Dechow, who arrived in the United States with a quantity of these forgeries. On January 4, they arrested U. G. Burton, a Russian by birth, for passing bills. He was subsequently convicted on Dechow's evidence and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

When General Walter Krivitsky wrote his articles concerning his own espionage activities on behalf of Soviet Russia for the "Saturday Evening Post" in 1939, he disclosed that in 1928, a Russian agent obtained the paper on which to print American banknotes and that $10,000,000 worth of them were printed by the Russian government in that year. How much has been printed subsequently is not known. This apparently was a way of getting money cheaply.

However, during World War II, the Russians obtained plates to print American invasion money. It is understood that such plates were given to them by Harry Dexter White, then in the United States Treasury. How much of this invasion money they printed and how much the United States redeemed is not publicly known. It would be interesting to find out about that. It would be interesting to know how many of these Russian printed invasion banknotes the United States redeemed and whether we added the item to the Russian lend-lease of $11,000,000,000 concerning which this government can get no accounting.

This is probably the only instance on record of a government counterfeiting the money of another government, although other countries have failed to meet their debts.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.

ANIMAL PROTEINS
As rheumatism is the oldest disease known to man, it is only natural that various mistakes as to its cause have been made in past years, one of which was attributing the cause of rheumatism to eating too much protein food, especially meat. This idea persisted for hundreds of years until Dr. Alton Fletcher, Toronto, and Ralph Pemberton, Philadelphia, were able to show that starch foods—sugar, bread, pastry—not meat, were an important factor in causing or aggravating rheumatism.

Another condition or disease for which the eating of meat has been blamed for many years is high blood pressure, which is the principal cause of brain and heart strokes.

Whole meat is the cause of the opinion that was never does any good there was reason taught us by World War II that is of great importance to physicians and to patients with high blood pressure. In the American Journal of Medical Sciences, Philadelphia, Dr. J. Kohari-Kucharik points out that during the siege of Budapest in 1945 the supply of animal proteins was exhausted. This circumstance made it possible to study the influence of a diet free of animal proteins on high blood pressure (hypertension). He reports observations on patients who had been treated for two to five years and the majority of whom attended the outpatient clinic fortnightly. Because of the war, only 30 of the original 150 patients could be followed. The period during which animal proteins—meat, milk, eggs, poultry—were unavailable lasted about 10 months. The 30 patients with long-standing high blood pressure did not show any consistent change in blood pressure after this period.

The above fact gives ample proof that proteins are not a factor in causing high blood pressure; in fact, while it is not so stated, proteins, especially meat, give a hotter fire in the burning up of food stuffs by the body than do other foods, which should help the removal of harmful wastes from the tissues and so favorably affect blood pressure. Wastes left in lower bowel drag on the nerves in the walls of blood vessels, increasing blood pressure and causing fatigue.

However, for the average individual free from high blood pressure symptoms, the amount of proteins eaten should be in proportion to the amount of physical work done daily. The less work done, the fewer proteins are needed to rebuild worn cells.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON

Washington—General Marshall has given a hint that he may remain as secretary of defense only a short time. The hint is a request to continue as head of the American Red Cross—despite the fact that at the age of 70 he occupies one of the most back-breaking jobs in the cabinet.

The reason given is that General Marshall has been a strong advocate of civilian defense, and has committed the Red Cross to several civilian defense programs on which he would like to follow through. Behind this, however, it is believed that the general may want to step out of the Defense Department some time next year and go back to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross Board of Governors will meet on November 18 to decide whether they will retain Marshall.

In the interim Marshall rates next to the President as the highest paid public servant in the United States. His salary is $45,000 plus $6,000 for entertainment—total $51,000.

This is because Marshall now draws $25,000 as a cabinet member plus another $22,500 as head of the American Red Cross plus $6,000 for entertainment.

Even when head of the Red Cross alone and before he took the defense job Marshall was one of the highest-paid public officials in the country, drawing $18,761 as a five-star general, plus $22,500 from the Red Cross, plus $6,000 for entertainment, or a total of $47,261.

Attempted Bribery
This column has sometimes been critical of the bureaucrats, but here is a tribute to a man whom the public probably has never heard of, William H. Kennedy, former assistant secretary of the alcohol tax unit.

Bill Kennedy retired the other day, after spending 30 faithful years with the government, and just before he retired it looked as if some of the big liquor companies were trying to pay him off.

For mysterious telegrams went out to whisky distillers along with a series of presents to Bill Kennedy. The telegrams even informed the distillers what they should give Kennedy, as follows:

- A maple bedroom suite
- An oriental rug of an exact room size to fit Kennedy's new home
- A complete silver set
- A new radio-television set
- A set of chinaware
- A collie dog

The telegrams were signed by "A. R. Reed" and sent from Philadelphia.

It happens to be against federal rules for anyone having business with the government to give presents to a government official. Furthermore, it is not considered ethical to give expensive presents when an official retires. Therefore, Kennedy immediately sent telegrams to the distillers saying he knew nothing about the proposal to shower him with gifts and that he would not accept them if offered.

Kennedy also conferred with his fair-haired chief, Carroll Mendenhall, who sent investigators to the Western Union office in Philadelphia from which the wires were sent, to see who had suggested this series of indirect bribes. No one by the name of "A. R. Reed" could be located in Philadelphia, though investigators found that a man by that name had registered at the Statler Hotel in New York, giving an address in Washington. When investigators checked on the Washington address, however, it turned out to be a vacant lot.

Finally, treasury agents traced the telegrams to Dr. Louis Marks, head of the giant Publisher's Disabling Fund in Philadelphia. The tip that Dr. Marks might be "A. R. Reed" came from Commissioner Mealey, who got to wondering why "A. R. Reed" wanted to send Kennedy a collie dog. Then he remembered that Dr. Marks was fond of collies.

Dr. Marks, incidentally, was fining $20,000 and given a suspended jail sentence last year for concealing German assets in the United States during the war. But he is now back in the distilling business and took a peculiar way to embarrass rather than reward a retiring and faithful public servant.

Johnson and Brewster
President Truman is still telling intimate friends about the reasons why he fired Louis Johnson. "I found out," said Mr. Truman recently, "about all those secret deals between Louie and Senator Brewster, and those trips Louie made to New York to see Barney Barnhart."

"I hear that Louie and Brewster even had a connecting door between their apartments in the Mayflower," remarked the presidential caller.

"It was almost that bad," replied the President. "Louie was actually feeding Brewster ammunition against our foreign policy. It showed up in speeches by Republican senators."

Note—Had Truman waited two weeks until after the Incheon invasion to fire Johnson, it would have been difficult. The secretary of defense would have received part of the credit. Hence the latest Washington wisecrack: "Truman has captured Formosa from the Republicans and prevented Johnson from taking Seoul."

Woodrow Wilson's Namesake
Former President Woodrow Wilson must have been present in spirit when a disabled veteran of the war he tried to prevent by a League of Nations called at the White House in a wheel chair.

The caller was ex-Army Corp. Woodrow Wilson of Millville, N. J., who lost both legs and a hand in Germany after the Battle of the Bulge. He came to present President Truman with a forget-me-not, opening the annual fund-raising drive of the disabled American veterans.

"You have a distinguished name," suggested Truman. "By any chance?"

"Yes, sir, I am related to the late President Wilson," said the veteran, "and was named after him."

"Well, I know he'd be mighty proud of you if he were here today," replied Truman. "You remind me of another young fellow to whom I awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. He told me he regretted having only one life that he could give to his country."

Today in Washington
United Nations, Americans Are on Trial for 'Debating Society' Angle

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 3.—The U. N. is on trial with many Americans today who are wondering if America has joined a debating society or a league to enforce peace.

Maybe the U. N. in the end will show resoluteness and begin to punish its apparent fear of dealing firmly with the Moscow regime. But it does not instill public confidence in the U. N. to read one day that some of its members want to admit Communist China and to read the next day that the premier of that government accuses America of aggression and dares her troops to cross the 38th parallel.

It will be difficult to maintain any faith in the Truman administration or in Secretary of State Acheson if there is any further dillydallying with the Russians in the U. N. The failure on the part of the U. N. thus far to put a spade a spade and to call the finger of responsibility on the Soviets for the aggression they committed in the Far East by manipulating their puppets, the North Koreans, is a tragic chapter of frustration, delay and perhaps even cowardice.

With a brilliant military victory in process, the time for resoluteness has arrived. Yet there are no signs that the U. N. members appreciate it. There is still talk about the wisdom of fighting beyond the 38th parallel and still talk about the mischievous Soviet proposals which plainly are designed to block decisions.

If the U. N. in the middle of a military operation as to stop and argue with a filibustering delegation which is a party to the crime, respect for the U. N. will diminish everywhere and particularly in the United States.

Nothing is calculated so quickly to make Americans irrevocable of party, lose trust in the U. N. than a program of delay at this time.

What is surprising is that the U. N. has not announced any plan whatsoever to punish the North Koreans for their activities and has not passed a single resolution denouncing the Moscow and Peking governments for their part in the North Korean aggression.

It was General MacArthur the other day who pointed out, in Asia, there could be no irreversibility, without loss of prestige. It is likewise true that if the military commander-in-chief has to wait for the U. N. to take any action, it is on whether or not to attack the enemy or where, critical battles will be lost and strategic advantages sacrificed while the debate goes on.

The very hesitancy on the part of the United Nations forces to proceed toward North Korea, which is reflected in the press dispatches, is a sign that someone is afraid to take a positive stand. General MacArthur's freedom of action is circumscribed. He no longer receives orders from the President of the United States alone. He must wait until the President has given orders to the U. N. will give orders to transmit to General MacArthur. Such a loss of sovereignty was never contemplated by America when she joined the U. N.

The United States has not before been in the position of yielding to another political authority the sovereign command over troops. The alliances of wartime have often planned to support a commander-in-chief with a military alliance is a useless device to conduct its operations subject to the delays it comes from international councils on the political level.

The crisis in which General MacArthur finds himself today is unprecedented in American history. He has been killed in battle. Many have been killed in cold blood, even the United States and there. Yet the American commander is powerless to avenge these deaths, because the United Nations doesn't know whether it is more afraid of the North Koreans or the Russians than it is of the U. N. It is a sad irony that the U. N. the danger of a large-scale war has been unaccountably increased.

Back in June the United States prodded the U. N. into quick action. Nobody in the government here seems to be prodding the U. N. today. Members of Congress regard the subject as closed.

The broadcast of a demand by General MacArthur for surrender should never have been made without an ultimatum demanding acceptance within a given time. Now apparently MacArthur must wait while an inadequate South Korean force makes its way north to meet the many dead bodies of the U. S. troops. It is a sad irony on the functioning of an international police force.

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. —Jacob Javits, a nominal Republican, representing the 21st New York Congressional District, has set forth his concept of a Republican platform in a belief that these heads and calves would get more votes than the Democrats, and original version of the same stuff and thus enable the Republican Party to come back.

Although Mr. Javits views with controlled alarm the Democratic Party's drift toward an over-increasing control by government of economic as well as political jobs, the program which he recommends for the Republicans is only a paraphrase of the most anti-Republican aims of the Democrats and Social Democrats. Like most other Republicans he seems to have lost sight of the fact that the Republican Party is supposed to offer a Republican form of government or to have lost confidence in the drawing power of that system. For a fact, the majority of voters have indicated a preference for the five-and-ten trinkets of democracy and the truth is that very few know what the republic was.

The republic was a union of small republics of unequal size and resources which retained rights not specifically yielded to the national government. The people had confidence in their state governments and pride of statehood. The national government had very little authority over the individual citizen. When the income tax came, the common people were financially ruined. It requires a man of great imagination to believe that this is the way to build a nation. They did not realize that in time Congress could boldly assert an absolute right to every dollar of every citizen's income "from whatever source derived" and would allow each individual only so much of his own earnings as he saw fit to keep.

Under the republic it was unthinkable that these fellows in Washington should have the power to send a hard-working thrifty man to prison for refusing to share his earnings with some shiftless lout in some other state and deprive his own children to feed the children of the shiftless lout.

That is the way it is now, nevertheless.

Mr. Javits' program leads off with "civil rights" which is an anti-Republican proposal that was forced down Truman's throat in 1948 by the Socialists acting through a false front known as Americans for Democratic Action. It would obliterate the poll tax in the states and thus ruin it. It would be a violation of the rights of those states to conduct their elections absolutely as they please.

Georgia has reduced the voting age to 18 and she could reduce it to eight or nine or 10, and so could any other state, and the federal government would have no legitimate constitutional right to interfere.

Slayers of Two Sought Upstate

Amsterdam, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Police today sought the slayer of a pair of teen-aged sweethearts who died under a hail of bullets in a lonely "lovers' lane."

A coroner said an autopsy indicated the 17-year-old girl had been raped, gagged and strangled. Underclothes had been ripped from her body.

The Montgomery county sheriff said it appeared the crime had a "sex motive."

The superintendent of a nearby quarry discovered the bodies of Jeanne Lorraine Stone of Amsterdam and William A. Waterman, 18, of Gloversville, yesterday.

Coroner Frank E. Phipps said they had been dead about 18 hours.

Eleven 22 calibre bullets had been pumped into Waterman. The girl died of a single bullet wound in the head.

The young television installer's body was besides his car, which was parked in the wooded area of Phillips Park, about three miles east of this Mohawk valley city.

The girl's body was on a grassy plot about 30 feet away.

Police reported there were no signs of a struggle.

They theorized that the slayer had surprised the young couple as they sat in the car.

There were four bullet holes through the window of the door on the driver's side of the coupe.

William J. Fish, investigator for the sheriff's office, said the bodies apparently had been dragged from the car and then more bullets fired into Waterman.

Truman Continues Leisurely Vacation

Aboard Yacht Commander, Chesapeake Bay, Oct. 3 (AP)—President Truman continued a leisurely vacation cruise today with plans centering mainly on getting plenty of rest.

The President's schedule calls for moving into Chesapeake Bay again after taking aboard the yacht Williamsburg two White House aides. They are John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, and Charles G. Ross, press secretary.

The Williamsburg anchored off the Patuxent (Md.) Naval Air Center last night after a 90-mile round trip cruise from there to the vicinity of Annapolis, Md.

As Pegler Sees It

franchise that may legitimately be exercised by the United States is the one forbidding discrimination at the polls on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. That was put through by the Hitlerites of the north after the Civil War, ostensibly as an emancipation measure. The true purpose was to persecute the southern white people who were denied the vote as punishment for their rebellion.

The purpose of the present anti-poll tax law is to wheedle the negro vote in the northern cities and, on this point, Mr. Javits says:

"The comeback of the Republican party is dependent on winning support in big cities like New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis."

The Negro vote caught by this device might bring back the Republican party, but if that happened it would be just another Democratic party under a phony label. But, meanwhile, why should the Negroes settle for an imitation when they could vote for the original?

The same constitutional Republican objections rule out Mr. Javits' proposal that the Republican party take over the A.D.A.'s anti-lynching law. This is an unconstitutional invasion of the states' right to attend to their own police work and the purpose here, again, is to catch Negro votes in the same northern centers where there have been plenty of lynchings since 1937, all conducted under the auspices of Communist union goons and associated criminals with the approval and protection of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

This proposal would exempt these criminal acts, however, by excluding from its provisions lynchings done in connection with "labor disputes." You never heard of a picket being kicked to death by the loyal American workers dispossessed from their jobs or by the board of directors. So the plain purpose of this act would be to punish some apples for the northern Negro vote and some apples for the votes of those unionists who practice lynching on law-abiding workers regardless of race or color.

In that connection, two intended victims of lynchings by such mobs turned on such criminals and blew their brains out a couple of years ago and were acquitted by juries. Both of the brave citizens who rendered this fine public service were Negroes.

Javits then goes on about housing, education, social security and "labor," paraphrasing the standard socialist, anti-Republican doctrine of the Democrats and the A.D.A.

It may be good medicine for the nominally Republican politicians jealous of the Democrats' "ever-increasing control of political jobs," but it isn't Republican. However, the truest Republican who has come to view in the last 200 years, Miss Vivian Kellems, of Connecticut, wasn't able to drum up enough signa-

Austria Rejects Strike Ultimatum

Vienna, Oct. 3 (AP)—Austria's government rejected today a Communist strike ultimatum and armed Vienna police in anticipation of possible disorders. The Communists set midnight tonight as the deadline.

The Communists also issued a proclamation asking full support of all workers for a general walk-out and demonstrations tomorrow if the government fails to meet its demands for increased wages. The threatened strike call affects at least 50,000 workers in the Russian-administered plants in and near Vienna.

The order went out to arm the police and permit them to wear steel helmets as the government issued a proclamation calling on Austria's workers to ignore the Reds, destroy illegal road blocks they might set up and throw rioters out of the factories.

The Vienna police have not carried arms since 1938. The government, an American spokesman said, has written formal notes to all four occupying powers protesting Russia's use of the strikes and violent demonstrations the Communists held in Vienna last week. Details of the notes were not yet known.

Policewoman Names Teacher as Communist

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—A brunette policewoman—an undercover agent in the Communist Party—has named a public school teacher an active Communist at one time.

Detective Stephanie Horvath testified yesterday that the suspected teacher held office in a Communist club and made a little speech of gratitude after his election.

The teacher, David Friedman, 46, being tried by the Board of Education on a charge that he was a Communist. He has been suspended as a teacher of English in public schools.

His departmental trial resumes today.

Miss Horvath pointed out Friedman from the witness stand as the "Comrade David" of her days in a Communist cell.

A defense counsel called her "a professional police spy" and objected that the police department had no right to "engage in such activities."

Destroyer Damaged

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—A second American destroyer was damaged by a mine explosion off the coast of North Korea, the navy announced late yesterday.

It said the U.S.S. Mansfield struck a mine late Saturday and that seven men were injured. The incident was located 40 or 50 miles north of the 38th parallel and off the east coast of Korea.

West Is Chilled, It's Mild in East At Electrol Plant

(By The Associated Press)

The coolest weather of the autumn season chilled most of the western part of the nation today but it was mild in the eastern and southern states.

Temperatures dipped as low as 19 above in Montana as the cold air spread southward from the Northern Rockies and northern plains into the north central states.

There were sharp drops over some of the east central states from yesterday's summer temperatures. Chicago's early morning low was in the low 40's as compared with a high of 83 yesterday. The cold air extended into the northwest Pacific and readings of near freezing were reported in some areas.

Light snow continued in southern Montana and showers preceded the eastern movement of the cold air. Fair weather was reported in other sections of the country.

Court Order Is Sought to Force Reardon to Appear

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Brooklyn district attorney's office was expected to seek a Connecticut court order today that would force ex-Policeman James E. Reardon to appear before the racketeering Brooklyn grand jury tomorrow.

Reardon, 33, is described as a key witness in the city's big police-bureau graft investigation. He lives in a $25,000 country home at Westport.

Reardon was assigned from the police department three years ago, became a partner in a Manhattan night club, the Cafe James, and only recently gave up his club interests.

Reardon has denied reports that Big Bookie Harry Gross, central figure in the graft probe, had ever been a partner in the club.

Meanwhile, Reardon's older brother, 40-year-old Michael R. Reardon—who is still a policeman—won a day's delay from Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz in a contempt action.

The elder Reardon, who was hauled from the Manhattan district attorney's squad to a Canarsie beat in Brooklyn a few days ago, says he can't remember the names of 10 other policemen he met at a party given by Gross in 1947.

During the delay proceeding yesterday, Reardon's attorney, Len Lickly, mentioned that he is a friend of Reardon's family.

"They don't give him any technical legal advice, give him some fatherly advice, some friendly advice," the judge said. "Get him to talk."

"The district attorney is after the big shots, not the small fry," Turns Up Evidence

The big probe, which started when District Attorney Miles F. McDonald's months-old Brooklyn investigation turned up evidence that Gross' reputed $20,000,000-a-year gambling empire paid $1,000,000 a year for police protection, moved ahead in other directions.

Nine policemen—some of high rank—were called before the grand jury yesterday, but only five showed up. Two were reported sick and two others on vacation.

One of the five, acting Lt. George McGirr, a 25-year veteran and friend of ex-Commissioner William P. O'Brien, submitted his resignation papers and then refused to sign a waiver of immunity before talking to the jury.

The waiver is required of city employees if they want to keep their jobs and pension rights, but does not apply to men already retired.

Another high-ranking member of the five, acting Chief Inspector Edward C. Moran, formerly in charge of the Brooklyn West and Staten Island uniformed forces, also refused to sign. He retired the day of the Gross raid last month, but said the action was a coincidence.

Conway Sedan Stolen During Monday Night

The local department and police throughout the state today were looking for a car stolen some time during the night from the rear of the West Shore Hotel on Railroad Avenue.

Eugene Conway of 159 Main street reported to the city police that his 1940 black Ford sedan had been taken during the night.

Conway said the left front window was broken on the auto which bore the license UL 36 77. He valued it at $600.

G.O.P. Confidence Grows

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 3 (AP)—Gains registered in municipal contests gave Connecticut Republicans increased confidence today for victory in the big November election.

Forty-six of the state's 169 towns elected municipal officers yesterday. The Republicans wrested from Democratic control four communities, among them Middletown, the only big city participating in the voting. Thirty-five towns remained in the Republican column. Democrats didn't gain a single town at Republican expense, but held on to seven where they already were entrenched.

During the War of the Revolution numerous colonial newspaper editors were forced to flee before the advancing British Army.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—High riding stocks resisted profit-taking inroads today in an active market. Stocks started off from a new 19-year high point attained yesterday and then extended their gains slightly.

Motors, steels and rails were in the forefront of the upward movement and held on to their gains despite selling that cropped periodically as holders sought to cash in on profits.

A great portion of the remainder of the market was mixed with a leaning to the higher side. Chrysler extended itself more than $2 a share at times after opening on a block of 500 shares up 1 1/2 at 79 1/2. The new $5 par General Motors common did well after opening on 8,000 shares up 1/2 at 50.

Nickel Plate, which zoomed up $20.50 yesterday, dropped at times today and unsettled the rest of the rail group.

Canadian Pacific was hit by selling for brief periods as traders took their Canadian dollar revaluation profits. A number of other Canadian issues, which propped in the last few weeks by buying in anticipation of Canadian dollar strength, also were under fire. Most of them, however, stood up well.

Little lower were Motorola, Zenith, Admiral Corp., Montgomery Ward, Mc Intire, Paragon, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Sinclair Oil.

Resistance of Red Troops Is Ended In Thai Nguyen

Saigon, Indo-China, Oct. 3 (AP)—A French military spokesman said today resistance of Communist-led Vietnamese troops in Thai Nguyen has ended.

Attacking forces have seized the rich delta basin surrounding the former Vietnamese stronghold 40 miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

He added that the Vietnamese troops in the Thai Nguyen area are fleeing towards the northeast. French lines south of Hanoi are being consolidated to exploit the new position at the Vietnamese headland of North Indo-China, he reported.

The spokesman said the present offensive in the Thai Nguyen area will continue until the useful delta lands are occupied. French troops already hold positions about four miles north of the city.

French troops have been to occupy the rich rice-growing delta lands to do it is to supply to the Vietnamese troops. In attacking the Vietnamese in the same mountain region, the French hope to disperse Vietnamese strength.

Murphy Will Not Argue His Appeal

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Police Commissioner Thomas P. Murphy, government prosecutor of Al Capone, will not argue his government's case in this appeal.

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol said today that Clark S. Ryan, an appeal assistant, would argue the case. Ryan was in charge of all government research in the case.

Murphy was appointed police commissioner last week and began on his first day of changes of organization and the department. Saypol said he had "agreed to accept" Murphy's recommendation that Ryan enter the case when it comes before the Court of Appeals Oct. 12.

A clause in the New York city charter prohibits a city official from doing any type of work other than that of his municipal position. Murphy is to battle the appeal. It would be necessary for him to resign his post as police commissioner.

Riss, former State Department official, was convicted of perjury Jan. 21 for denying he had passed government secrets to a pre-war Soviet spy ring. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment by Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Money Orders Refused

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The government has temporarily stopped accepting money orders to be cashed in Canada. The embargo was issued by the Post Office Department yesterday following week-end action by the Canadian government in freezing its dollar to fluctuate with the market.

The Canadian dollar previously had been pegged at 91 cents. Its value ranged around 91 cents in New York trading yesterday. A post office spokesman said the suspension of money orders to Canada was decided upon to protect this government against losses until effects of the action can be studied.

The Story of Your Newspaper

The Freeman Advertising Department

American Newspapers—Truth to a Free People

National Newspaper Week, which currently is being observed, is designed to acquaint newspaper readers with the every day activities of a newspaper. To help you know how a newspaper is produced and to get you acquainted with those who help to make The Freeman, we are publishing a series of articles, illustrated with pictures of the various departments. This is the second article in the series.

Advertising

In the advertising department of The Freeman there are six specially trained advertising solicitors, whose business it is to sell your product. They offer you white space in the newspaper with the guarantee that the eyes of our circulation will view your message. Their job is to increase your sales and they consider themselves your partner, if you wish to sell.

Their job of increasing your sales can be accomplished through you with their help in designing a sound program of advertising, carefully thought out in advance. Their knowledge, acquired through training and experience in dealing with merchants and merchandising problems is yours for the asking. You find them calling on you at your place of business, offering the services of this newspaper.

In consulting with our local merchants, The Freeman advertising representatives guarantee you a daily circulation of about 33,500 with a possible readership of some 50,000, having in mind four members of each household.

Guaranteed Circulation

(The circulation of The Freeman is guaranteed by the Audit Bureau of Circulation. Those papers going to the correspondents, to advertisers, to employees and those used in promotion are not "accredited" circulation according to the standards of the A. B. C.)

They then advise the various merchants how best to present the particular stock they wish to advertise, how to make the most of the space they have funds to spend on and offer mats from one of The Freeman's advertising services to illustrate the product offered. The question of space to display the article or articles is then considered by the merchant and the representative of the paper.

A rough copy of the ad as it will appear in the paper is then offered the merchant, who has the opportunity of making any desired changes before giving his approval.

Advertisements are worked out in advance of the requested date of publication so that sufficient time may be devoted to the copy in order to make it as attractive and appealing as possible. The deadline for the display ads are one day in advance of the publication day.

The advertising schedule clerk receives the ad for scheduling. Attached to the ad is a slip telling the date of publication and the time it left the copy writer's hands and the time received by the clerk, who sends it on to the composing room, where the ads are set up into type.

Your newspaper carries advertising services to help you illustrate your advertisement to its best advantage. You find them eager to promote the sale of your product or your idea.

Advertising in your daily paper provides a great portion of the newspaper's income. Like a wheel this, in turn, enables the newspaper to provide greater public service. This increases the newspaper's circulation, providing more readers and potential buyers of your product.

Two Departments

At The Freeman, advertising is handled by two separate departments "Classified" and Display." The classified advertisements are confined to one section of the paper and are itemized in accordance with their content such as articles for sale, poultry and supplies, used cars, employment, real estate, apartments.

Display advertisements are handled by a separate force which arranges contracts for specific amounts of newspaper space devoted to the advertiser's message. These contracts can be for a single issue of The Freeman, for a series of weekly ads or for an entire year.

The individual display advertisement range from a single column inch to a full page. National advertising is arranged by our national representative but it all goes through our own advertising department.

Advertising is an integral part of our system of free enterprise and competition. America has become great under this system. We have more automobiles, more telephones, more refrigeration,

The display advertising appearing in The Freeman is handled by this staff. Here advertising contracts are drawn for merchants of Kingston and Ulster county, who desire to publicize their merchandise to readers of this paper. Consumers have learned to depend upon advertised products. Greater sales volume places proportionately greater responsibility upon the manufacturer, who must make his products live up to the advertising claims. Advertising results in lower costs because of this increase in volume and because of the competition it instills in our system of free enterprise.

greater production, higher wages and higher per capita income than any other country. Advertising is a part of the competitive system that has brought this about.

The cost of advertising is so small per unit of our great staple products that its elimination would have practically no effect on prices. In fact, prices are lower than they would be if no advertising were used, because advertising furnishes a cheaper method of creating demand than if we used any other form of selling, such as personal salesmanship.

In the majority of cases advertising reduces the cost of manufacture because it enables the successful advertiser to make goods on a large-scale basis thus lowering costs in the factory. Competition then forces advertisers to pass on the savings to the consumer in the form of lower prices.

To summarize, advertising reduces the cost of selling and the cost of manufacture. It makes for better quality of goods. It enables companies to enlarge their plants and to employ more people at better wages. It raises the standard of living and plays its part in increasing national income.

Anything that interferes with competitive advertising would tend to kill the very thing that has made America great.

The next article in the series will be on the business office.

Man, 29, Says He Killed Woman, 42

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—A 29-year-old electrician stopped a policeman on 34th street late last night and told him he had killed the 42-year-old woman he was living with, police said.

At their apartment, 310 West 34th st., police found the body of Mrs. Jane Brazeau lying on a couch in a room full of empty beer and whiskey bottles.

At a station house, the electrician, James P. Cronin, said he met Mrs. Brazeau about a month ago and moved into her apartment.

Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, chief medical examiner, said he could not determine the exact cause of her death in his preliminary examination.

Cronin, an army veteran, said he was married and that his home was in Newton, Mass. He was held on a vagrancy charge pending the outcome of an autopsy.

He was quoted as saying he and the woman, a red-haired former department store clerk, started drinking Saturday night and got into an argument. He said he remembered hitting her several times and then leaving the place, police reported. When he returned last night he found Mrs. Brazeau dead.

Church Will Show Full-Length Movie Of Family's Life

A full-length dramatic religious film, "Second Chance", made in Hollywood, will be shown at the Ponckhockie Congregational Church on Abruy street Wednesday, October 11, at 8 p. m.

Released by the Department of Visual Aids Missions Council, through the State Conference of Officers of the Congregational Christian Churches, the movie tells the story of the life of Ed and Emily Dean, taken from an original story by novelist Faith Baldwin.

It tells of the ways men and women miss the best things of life by fixing their aim on what is second best, an announcement said. "You will be carried along by the warmth and love of a newly founded home, amused at Ed's strutting when his first-born came. You will laugh with the Deans, and cry with them too, as his bride bitersness and sorrow. In the film, Emily Dean wishes desperately for a second chance for more time to redirect her life."

The Ponckhockie church said the movie was 80 minutes in length, with complete sound, produced with Hollywood's technical skill as well as acting of the highest caliber.

The film is sponsored by the Church Council in connection with the Every-Member Canvass to take place throughout Kingston in the near future, and will not be shown again here this year as it is solidly booked by Congregational churches elsewhere.

The church extended a cordial welcome to anyone wishing to attend. A silver offering will be received at the end of the showing. "Second Chance" is among the first feature motion pictures made by the church for church use.

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gilbert

Smiling happily, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gilbert, (the former Bertha Zoda) cut their wedding cake during the reception at the bride's home.

Bertha Zoda Weds Everett C. Gilbert

Miss Bertha Zoda, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Zoda of 9 Valley street, became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Gilbert, Sr., Sunday afternoon, September 24, at St. Mary's Church, the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly officiating.

The church chancel was decorated for the ceremony with white chrysanthemums and pom-poms. Martin Kelly, soloist, sang "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Anthony Buzzanca, the bride wore traditional white satin, train, with a lace-trimmed collar and skirt. Her veil fell from a rhinestone crown, and she carried a cascade of baby's breath and white pom-poms.

Mrs. John Elsworth, sister of the bride, of 35 Fairview avenue, was matron of honor. Mrs. Elsworth selected an aqua satin gown, cut with a bertha collar, and a picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Mary Donat, Theresa, and Gloria Zoda of 9 Valley street, all sisters of the bride. They wore blue, burnt orange, green, and pink satin gowns, respectively, cut with full skirts, bertha collars, and scalloped necklines, and carried sprays of yellow chrysanthemums.

Ushers included Francis Bruno of 12 Susan street, John Elsworth, brother-in-law of the groom, of 85 Fairview avenue, Floyd Gilbert of 102 Second avenue, and Walter Gardecky of 119 Newkirk avenue.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the bride's home.

For their wedding trip the couple visited Boston and the New England states. The bride's traveling costume consisted of a navy suit, white top, black accessories, and pink rosebud corsage.

Parents Meet, Form Association to Aid Retarded Children

Parents of mentally retarded children met recently to form an Ulster county chapter of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children, and announced today that the next meeting would be held Saturday at 8:15 a. m. in the library of Kingston High School.

"For their children's welfare, every parent of a mentally retarded child will recognize his duty to attend," the new organization said.

The group is dedicated "to mentally handicapped children, regardless of age, race or creed," and proposes "to further all aspects of the problem: research, diagnosis, child guidance, parental education, public enlightenment, schooling, etc."

Two clinics for retarded children have been established by the state association, as well as a speech clinic, play therapy classes and after-school social activities for adolescents. A demonstration cooperative school has been purchased in Westchester, and will open as soon as the program is completed, it was announced.

V.F.W. Opens Kingston Social Season As 2,000 Attend Annual Autumn Ball

The 1950-51 ball season for Kingston was officially ushered in last night when approximately 2,000 persons jammed the municipal auditorium for the annual autumn ball and entertainment staged by Joyce-Schrick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Topped by the distinctive music by Ted Hencke and his "Music in the Miller Mood," the entire program moved along at a brisk pace with a stellar list of entertainers from the radio and television world making up the successful show.

Prior to the vaudeville end of the show, Roger Baer entertained the early arrivals with his Hammond organ music. Baer later played the National Anthem with the audience standing.

After Commander Edward A. Parmelee of the V.F.W., officially opened the show with a few words of welcome, Harold Barry, a new "find" in TV circles, assumed his role as master of ceremonies and went on to introduce the various entertainers. Barry was a recent hit on the Bonnie Maid video show.

Susan Brooks, who has starred at Lou Walter's Latin Quarter night club in New York city with her unusual dance routine, opened the show at a fast pace. After her version of a Parisian fantasy, the lithe acrobatic blonde delighted her audience with her various contortions in her well-received dance routine.

Little Walter Pleases
Another big crowd-pleaser was Little Walter, a Frenchman who offered a speedy musical comedy act. Little Walter was brought back continually for encores after he repeatedly asked the audience in his French dialect, "you want some more?"

The Frenchman amazed his on-lookers with his versatility by playing various musical instruments. The so-called "one-man band" showed surprising ability on all instruments and wound up his part of the act with a drum slung around his shoulders, cymbals and a bagpipe. He actually sounded like a one-man band as he started to play a march.

He had the audience pleading for more as he played his violin while sliding the fiddle over the bow with his legs while standing on a chair, a pint-sized clarinet, alto saxophone and a "rubbery end clarinet." He then branched out by playing the clarinet and a small sax at the same time.

Walter's three young daughters, all grown in white, then came on the stage and held out on the flashing touches to the fine act with their saxophones as Walter played the accordion in the background. Judging from their saxophone abilities, they seem like sure bets for future commitments with Phil Spittany's all-girl orchestra.

The enjoyable Crosby Sisters, billed as song stylists who are different, were just that in their pleasing style as they ran through various songs. Recent hits at the Roxy Theatre and on the Milton Berlin and Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town shows, the two talented girls, particularly the zany blonde, practically knocked themselves out in putting over their act.

Both were good entertainers. The zany blonde went through her part of the act in Joan Davis style while the cute dark-haired entertainer provided the straight part with an easy to listen to voice.

Davis Taps Again
Bobby "Tables" Davis, who regaled local audiences a few years ago with his iron teeth act, delighted the V.F.W. ball crowd with his unusual act again last night.

Possessing a fine ability as a tap dancer, Davis gave out with several distinctive tap rhythms and then brought the house down by using his teeth to lift up three tables and a chair in a sensational finale to his act.

The final act featured Eddie Gold and Harry Reed, the Bar-

BORROWING A WEDDING DRESS

A prospective bride asks an unusual question: "I'd very much like to borrow the wedding dress of a college friend. I was a bridesmaid at her wedding a year ago and the dress was lovely on her and we are about the same size. It was not a family dress although some family lace was used. Is there any way I could bring up the idea when I write and tell her of my engagement? I don't imagine she would even dream that I'd like to wear her dress. None of the same people will be at my wedding and I doubt that even she could come because of the great distance."

It would be impossible to make such a suggestion. If she offers it, it would be quite all right to accept, but to ask this privilege of her would be unthinkable.

Returning Baby Presents
Dear Mrs. Post: Very good friends of mine adopted a child who is now several years old and very much of a joy to them. About a year ago they took a second child but before the probation year was over, discovered unusual problems in this one and it had to be returned. Meantime, however, friends had sent many gifts for the new baby. Should these be returned? Most of them were not used and all of them quite expensive items.

Answer: Yes, I think it best to return them.

Coats of Arms Always Inherited
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please set me straight? I've been told that only families with social background may have a coat of arms. Yesterday another person said that was wrong; that anyone can draw a coat of arms and use it for their family through the years.

Answer: The person you met yesterday was mistaken. You might almost as well say you could use another person's name that you fancied more than your own.

Serving Fruit Juices
Dear Mrs. Post: When serving a fruit juice as a first course at the table, where should this glass be placed in relation to the water goblet?

Answer: On the place plate—not with the glasses.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, she has made up a leaflet for boys and girls of high-school age which includes the questions most frequently asked about good manners in public. Ask for leaflet E-11. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coins to her, in care of The

The small, informal wedding was held in the study of the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra of the Fair Street Reformed Church. # Ferraro Blasts 277-721 in Hudson Valley Bowling League Match

Fires Nine Strikes In Row; Gordon Raps 678 Triple

Johnny Ferraro plastered the pot-bellied maples for a resounding 721 triple in the Hudson Valley Bowling League Sunday afternoon at the Bowldrome and narrowly missed shooting another perfect "300" game in the bargain.

The Ace tossed nine straight strikes in his opening game against Johnny's Bar and Grill of Newburgh before the bubble exploded.

Ferraro wound up the game with a hefty 277 singleton and bounced back with fine scores of 246 and 195 to build up his 721, the first 700 blast in the infant 1950-51 campaign.

Ferraro's 277 single sparked the Adirondack Trailways to a 942-888 victory in the opening game. The visitors capped the middle game by 992 to 989 but the Trailways took the third by 986 to 957 for a team triple of 2897. The Bar and Grillers shot 2837.

Following the "Ace" was Angie Ferraro who posted 210-572. Johnny "Red" Schatzel fired 205-519. Hank Kemmerer 331 and Fred Rice 202-524.

Gordon Raps 678

Alleys 7 and 8 at the Cornell street lanes received another thorough going over by Eddie Gordon of the Newburgh squad who punished the maples for a 678 triple. Gordon had games of 198-213-207.

K. Rhodes had 386. W. Baker 531 and Wally Gerken 200-204-518.

Junie Davis Converts 7-10 Split at Ruzzo's

Junie Davis, leadoff key for the Stone Ridge Firemen of the Independent League accomplished the dream shot of all bowlers last night at Ruzzo's Bowldrome when he converted the 7-10 split on alley six. The shot came in the final game of the set against Voigt's Dairy.

Davis shot the seven pin full and it bounced into the pit and was deflected across to the opposite backboard and onto the alley where it cleaned off the 10 pin. It was the first in the history of the Independent League that this split has been converted and from all the bowlers goes a tip of the hat.

Graziano, Burton Ready for Match

Chicago, Oct. 3 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, former middleweight champion, and Gene Burton, New York's fast stepping welterweight, have completed training for their 10-round bout tomorrow night at Chicago Stadium.

Graziano, with an expected 15-pound weight advantage over his opponent, has been installed a 12-5 favorite. The bout will mark Graziano's first ring appearance here since he defeated Tony Zale for the middleweight championship in 1947.

Shotton, Durocher Like Phils in Series

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Baseball's brain trust—the major league managers—today lined up about three to one behind the New York Yankees to win the World Series.

But Philadelphia's Phillies found strong support in the National League's 1950 "bride's maids"—Brooklyn's Shotton and Leo Durocher of the New York Giants.

Shotton and Durocher both predicted the Phillies' tight-squeeze finish would provide a psychological lift that would propel them past the confident Yankees.

"In seven games," said Shotton, "Eight of the managers leading for the opening game tomorrow in Philadelphia or relaxing at home, said the New Yorkers had too much sock and savvy for Bob Carpenter's youngsters."

Three—the Phillies' Eddie Sawyer naturally joining Shotton and Durocher—picked the National League champs.

Connie Mack, as an American Leaguer and a Philadelphian, deftly straddled the fence.

"I'm neutral," he said.

The four other skipper were in transit somewhere and not available for comment. They were Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals, Ray Corbin of the Chicago White Sox, Frankie Frisch of the Chicago Cubs and Red Rolfe of the Detroit Tigers.

Lou Boudreau of Cleveland and Zack Taylor of the St. Louis Browns said flatly New York would win in five games. Others hedged a bit, acknowledging the Phils could surprise if they got hot.

Notre Dame Eleven in No. 1 Spot Faces Tough Fight to Stay There

Wiltwycks, Saucers Win Loop Tilts

Wiltwyck Motors staved off a last half attack by the stubborn Sixth Ward cagers Saturday night and managed to pull out a 68 to 61 victory in the A division of the Y Autumn Basketball League.

The Motormen, with Rod Sagendorf sparking the attack, jumped off to a 38 to 19 margin at the first half and appeared well on their way to an easy triumph.

Gene Fitzgerald, who scored 20 points, dumped in nine deuces for the losers in the second two periods of action while Charlie Marabel followed in which seven two-pointers from one-hand spin shots from under the basket.

Wiltwycks were outscored in the final two periods by 23 to 10 and 19 to 17 and with a few more minutes on the clock the Sixth Warders might have pulled the upset.

Sagendorf and R. Hunt sparked the winners with 18 and 16 markers. Fitzgerald and Marabel were high for the losers with 20 and 21 respectively.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Notre Dame still is the No. 1 college football team in the nation but it looks as if the Irish are going to have to do a lot more fighting to hold on to their cherished laurels this year.

The first Associated Press poll of the season found Frank Leahy's lads at the top again—just where they left off last November.

But four other collegiate aggregations—Michigan State, Southern Methodist, Army and Oklahoma—are bunched right behind the Irish, ready, and apparently able, to move up if Notre Dame should falter.

The South Bendors barely nosed out North Carolina, 14-7, Saturday.

A total of 190 sports writers and broadcasters, representing a coast to coast panel, voted the Irish No. 1, with 1,500 points and 63 first-place nominations.

Only eight points separated the next three elevens, Michigan State, surging to the fore on the strength of its upset 14-7 triumph over mighty Michigan, gained the No. 2 position with 1,298 points.

Two points behind came Southern Methodist whose posing chassis accounted for a 32-27 triumph over Ohio State's Rose Bowl kings.

Army's Black Knights, who struck like lightning against Colgate for a 28-0 victory, were voted fourth place with 1,230 points. Oklahoma's rebuilt Sooners gained the fifth ranking with 1,025 points.

Points were tabulated on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis with ten points for the No. 1 vote.

Of the first ten, only Washington failed to get a first place nomination. In all, 14 teams received at least one ballot for the No. 1 spot.

The top ten number in brackets is first place votes:

1. Notre Dame (63) ..... 1,500
2. Michigan State (32) ..... 1,298
3. Southern Methodist (28) ..... 1,230
4. Army (29) ..... 1,230
5. Oklahoma (17) ..... 1,025
6. Kentucky (5) ..... 839
7. Texas (2) ..... 562
8. Stanford (3) ..... 464
9. California (2) ..... 442
10. Washington ..... 211

Lights Lure Eager Beaver
Butte, Mont. (AP)—An eager beaver that never had it so good in the woods really had itself a time in Butte's Columbia Park for a spell. The critter moved in quietly, took up quarters in a small stream between the roller coaster and the merry-go-round and moved in hungrily on the park's succulent trees. Ted Beach, superintendent of the gardens, soon noticed something was doing his trees a great deal of no good so he called for help from the game wardens who trapped the 45-pound animal and carried it away from the bright lights and music.

Nurses' Objective $10,800

Four members of The Kingston Hospital Nurses' Alumnae Association building fund committee look over the plans for the new library in the School of Nursing and the social service office in the new east wing, which the alumnae have selected as their objective in the building fund campaign. Members will combine their individual subscriptions toward the $10,800 cost of building and equipping the two units.

Nurses to Raise Fund in Hospital Building Drive

An objective of $10,800 has been selected by the Nurses' Alumnae Association of The Kingston Hospital as the members' goal in the hospital's building fund campaign to raise $850,000 by public subscription. Announcement of the objective was made by Miss Evelyn N. Morse, association president, following a special meeting at which the members voted to combine their individual subscriptions toward the cost of building and equipping the library in the enlarged School of Nursing and the social service office on the ground floor of the new east wing.
The units were chosen by the association from a selection of several possibilities presented by a committee, headed by Miss Katherine N. Murphy and Miss Jennie Lucchese, which reviewed the proposed plans for the enlarged hospital. Speaking for the committee, Miss Murphy said: "We are very pleased with the association's choice, for we feel that these units will be of particular service to both nursing and the general public. The school of nursing library, she pointed out, will be used not only by student nurses but as a source of reference by graduates working in the hospital. The social service office appealed particularly to the nurses, she said, because it will aid a group of patients most in need of assistance after they leave the hospital. Congratulating the association on its action, John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., president of the hospital's board of trustees and chairman of the building fund, called it "an inspiration to the whole community, as well as to those who are associated with the hospital's expansion program."

"By undertaking to assemble such a substantial share of the building fund," he said, "our graduates are continuing their splendid tradition of contributing to the hospital not only devoted service but material benefits." He recalled that the first room in the present hospital to be provided with modern hospital equipment was furnished as the gift of the Alumnae Association twelve years ago. Last year an oxygen tent was presented to the hospital by the alumnae.

Since its establishment in 1897, the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing has graduated 404 nurses, of whom approximately 80 are now active members of the alumnae association. About the same number, who are not now in the nursing profession, participate in the alumnae activities as associate members.

The alumnae committee, under the leadership of Miss Murphy and Miss Lucchese, plans to conduct a personal solicitation of both active and associate members and will also offer to graduates of other schools on the nursing staff of the Kingston Hospital the opportunity to participate.
Members of the committee include: Mrs. Michael A. Ambrose, Mrs. Emilio P. Ambrose, Miss Dorothy C. Buddenhagen, Miss Mary C. Butler, Miss Barbara Clark, Mrs. Frederick H. Decker, Miss Grace Elliott, Mrs. Orley S. Everett, Miss Ingeborg Fleig, Miss Edith Freer, Miss Kathryn I. Heavey, Miss Isabel D. Herdman, Mrs. Ruth Jump, Miss Helen D. Kilroy, Mrs. Arthur E. Lanspery, Mrs. Oscar J. Lawnsch, Mrs. Marie McMenemy, Miss Morse, Mrs. Fred P. Reis, Mrs. Lester E. Sanford, Miss Olive Spunneveher and Mrs. Floyd Wilber.

Prior to entering service he was employed in Poughkeepsie. He will be stationed temporarily in Massachusetts.

Hanley Derides

State Hospital at Deacon, the Hamilton Valley State Hospital at Winghild, the Wassaic State School and the Hudson River State Hospital here.
"These things are being built right now and more of them are on the way all over the state," Hanley declared. "Nobody is squandering the capital construction fund."
Hanley said the apparent reason the Democrats are attacking the handling of the construction fund is that they "are trying to keep the people from asking them what's happened to the $50,000,000 this country has spent on defense since 1944."
He said "only 51 out of every $7 went to buy arms," and there was "tragic unpreparedness" at the start of the Korean war.

Wicks Says Lynch

section of the State Thruway, which his party opposed, to Kingston from Saugerties to Kingston will soon be under construction; that Route 28 has been constructed and concrete paved as far as Boiceville, that one of the largest ski centers in the world is being developed by the state at Belle Ayre, that without the help of the Dewey administration Kingston would probably still have no ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and that the cooperation of the Dewey administration with the people of Ulster county has been approved—not by words or promises but by actions and accomplishments.

Buffalo Stampede Filmed

Billings, Mont. (AP)—A buffalo stampede, awesome but familiar sight to Indians and pioneers of another day, has been caught for the movies. Jeeps, aided by Indians on horseback, recently stamped the Crazy Indian tribe's bison herd for a scene in the motion picture "War Path," dealing with the life of Gen. George Custer.

GOOD LUMBER GOES TO BAT!
Every inch of lumber in every bat used by the Big Leaguers is hand picked wood, carefully selected for weight, balance, and strength. Second-growth ash is the preferred Slugger Timber because of its fibred resiliency and strong combative qualities. Few woods are subjected to as many varying inspections as the lumber that bats out those "homers" for our champs.
But those ball players have nothing on us — we're fussy, too. Every stick and plank in this yard must pass rigid specifications. We can tell you what kind of lumber is best suited for each job — the best grade for framing — for heavy construction — for woodwork and stairwork. Come in and inspect our stocks.
